Pricing Dispute Policy Article Promotional Banner Mismatch

Policy article defining how agents must handle verified promotional pricing disputes, including authentication prerequisite, expiration timing, and allowed remedy paths.

Document Details

General

policy_article:PRICING-DISPUTE-PROMO-BANNER-MISMATCH is the exact article to consult policy requires customer authentication before any refund or store-credit action policy states agents must verify customer profile, target order, uploaded evidence, and any prior adjustment markers before remediation policy states advertised bundle or banner prices are honored only if the screenshot/evidence was captured during the promo validity window and the qualifying items were in cart simultaneously policy states if the evidence timestamp is after the published expiration time, no price-match refund or store credit is permitted policy allows remedy only for a verified charged discrepancy on delivered orders when banner validity and cart qualification are both confirmed policy limits remedy to the exact verified price difference, not goodwill extras policy permits either original-payment refund or store credit only when the discrepancy is verified and no prior credit exists policy directs agents to summarize the denial or approved remediation concisely in the case notes/customer reply

Additional Information

Render a policy PDF article with a knowledge-base style layout. Title: 'PRICING-DISPUTE-PROMO-BANNER-MISMATCH'. Include clear sections: Scope, Required Verification Steps, Eligibility Rules, Non-Eligible Cases, Approved Remedies, and Response Guidance. State explicitly that agents must authenticate the customer before any financial action, confirm the customer profile and exact order, inspect uploaded checkout screenshots and invoice/order records, and verify no prior manual credits or price adjustments. In Eligibility Rules, state that promotional banner or bundle pricing may be honored only when the evidence shows the qualifying items were in cart during the posted validity window. In Non-Eligible Cases, explicitly state that if the screenshot timestamp is after the banner expiration time, no refund or store credit is allowed even if the expired banner remains visible. In Approved Remedies, state that if eligible, agents may issue only the exact verified difference, either as refund to original payment method or store credit, provided no prior compensation exists. End with guidance to provide a concise customer-facing summary. Make the text precise and easy to quote.