Embervale Employment Confidentiality Agreement Evan Mercer

Signed employment confidentiality, invention-assignment, and exit-certification agreement for the departed engineer.

Document Details

General

person.departed_engineer: Evan Mercer company.employer: EmberVale Robotics, Inc.

agreement.execution_date: 2021-06-14 agreement.sections.confidentiality: defines Confidential Information to include source code, model weights, hardware schematics, customer roadmaps, and build pipelines agreement.sections.use_return: employee may not use or disclose Confidential Information except for EmberVale business and must return/delete all company materials on separation agreement.sections.invention_assignment: all inventions, improvements, code, and documentation related to EmberVale business or developed with company resources are assigned to EmberVale agreement.sections.device_restriction: no company source repositories may be synced to personal devices or removable media without written approval agreement.sections.exit_certification: upon separation employee must certify return of all devices, storage media, files, notes, and copies, and certify no retention in cloud/personal accounts agreement.sections.emergency_relief: breach or threatened breach entitles EmberVale to temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction, specific performance, and other equitable relief without posting bond where permitted agreement.employee_signature: signed by Evan Mercer agreement.exit_certificate_date: 2025-04-18 agreement.exit_certificate_statement: Evan Mercer certified all EmberVale property and information had been returned and no copies retained

Additional Information

Create a realistic 6-page US legal PDF titled 'EmberVale Robotics, Inc. Employee Confidentiality, Invention Assignment, and Exit Certification Agreement.' Include page headers, section numbering, signature blocks, and an appended one-page separation certificate. Parties: EmberVale Robotics, Inc. and employee Evan Mercer. Execution date 06/14/2021. Include precise clauses: (1) Confidential Information includes source code, model weights, hardware schematics, customer roadmaps, build pipelines, nonpublic test data. (2) Employee shall not use or disclose Confidential Information except for company business. (3) Employee must promptly return and not retain originals or copies of documents, files, devices, notes, cloud backups, or removable media upon separation. (4) All inventions/improvements/software/documentation related to company business or developed with company resources are assigned to EmberVale. (5) No syncing or copying source repositories to personal devices or removable media without written approval. (6) Emergency relief clause stating threatened breach causes irreparable harm and company may seek TRO, preliminary injunction, specific performance, expedited recovery, and equitable relief without posting bond where permitted by law. Appended Exit Certification dated 04/18/2025 signed by Evan Mercer stating all company property and information were returned and no copies retained. Make the PDF text crisp and reviewable.