EC T18 Pricing Dispute Policy Excerpt

Internal knowledge article PDF excerpt containing the exact pricing-dispute and expired-promotion rules needed to judge screenshot sufficiency and remedy eligibility.

Details

Document Title	Pricing Dispute & Promotion Validation Policy
Document Type	Internal Knowledge Article Excerpt
Policy Section	Screenshot evidence requirements
Rule	A customer screenshot alone is insufficient unless it clearly shows the product name, advertised price or discount, and a visible date or active promotional validity window
Rule	If the screenshot does not show an active date or validity period, agents must rely on the order record and archived promotion data
Policy Section	Expired promotion handling
Rule	Expired, ended, or weekend-only promotions are not honored after the promotion period unless the order record shows the discount should have applied at checkout
Rule	For delivered orders with a pricing discrepancy, agents may offer a post-purchase credit only when the charged amount exceeds a verifiable active promotion at time of purchase
Rule	If the order receipt already includes the promotion that was advertised, no additional refund or credit is due for that same promotion
Rule	Identity verification is required before issuing any refund, credit, or billing adjustment
Rule	The order specialist must confirm final charged total, applied discount lines, and promotion eligibility from the receipt and order system before escalation
Approval Note	Courtesy credits for unverified promotional claims require supervisor approval

Additional Information

a realistic 2-page internal policy PDF excerpt from an ecommerce support knowledge base

a sidebar or shaded note emphasizing evidence standards and a separate boxed note for agent actions or approval requirements

This policy is confidential and intended for authorized recipients only.