NSF Grant Terms

NSF grant terms PDF covering airfare, lodging, meals, receipts, and missing-receipt affidavit requirements. Also includes DARPA contract terms covering travel reimbursement, per diem, and documentation requirements for comparison.

Details

Title	National Science Foundation Grant Travel and Reimbursement Terms section 'Airfare' states coach/economy class is required unless a documented medical or mission necessity exception is approved in advance section 'Lodging' states actual lodging costs are reimbursable up to the federal per diem lodging cap for the destination section 'Meals and Incidentals' states meal reimbursement follows federal M&IE; per diem rates and cannot be combined with a full conference meal package claim Receipt Threshold	receipts required for any individual expense of $75 or more original itemized receipt required for airfare, lodging, rental car, and any single miscellaneous expense at or above the receipt threshold missing receipt policy states a Missing Receipt Affidavit may be used only when the original receipt is lost and the vendor cannot provide a duplicate Missing Receipt Affidavit Limit	no more than one affidavit for the same trip without finance office review duplicate reimbursement prohibition states expenses reimbursed from another federal award or contract are unallowable Submission Deadline	expense report must be submitted within 30 calendar days after trip end traveler certification requires signature attesting that the claim is true, correct, and not submitted to any other sponsor
Approvals Required	traveler, principal investigator or project director, and sponsored projects finance reviewer

Additional Information

a realistic 4-page grant-policy PDF in a formal university compliance style distinct sections for airfare, lodging, meals and incidentals, receipts/documentation, missing-receipt affidavits, duplicate funding restrictions, submission timelines, and certification/approval workflow

Present policy text in paragraph form with occasional bullet lists and a small summary table for receipt requirements

This policy is confidential and intended for authorized recipients only.